PART BEING REALIZED BY NORWICH PEOPLE.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney illness. Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Norwich citizen.

Mrs. William H. Clark, 112 Chestnut Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "I can vouch for Doan's Kidney Pills as being a remedy that acts as represented. I procured them from N. D. Smith's Drug Store and they use brought me relief from a pain in my back that had not yielded to any medicine that I had used previously. For years I was subject to attacks of backache and I felt, tried and weighted down with languor and depression, often being unable to get up in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be just the remedy I required and I feel grateful, indeed, for the benefit I derived from their use."

CHURCH SEAL

Adopted by New Haven Congregation—Pastor to Fill New Office.

Besides creating a new office which will be filled by Rev. Oscar E. Maurer, pastor of Center church, the Center church congregation, at its annual meeting in New Haven elected officers and adopted a church seal. Following much deliberation, the committee appointed to prepare the seal presented the design last evening drawn by H. Laquiere. The seal was unanimously adopted. The committee which prepared the seal was composed of Professor Niemeyer of the Yale art school, Mrs. Henry Farnham and H. Laquiere. The seal brings on the Puritan ship, the two slaves upon which were written the Mosaic laws and the seven brass candlesticks which stand for the seven pillars of the church. The characters are drawn and blended together cleverly, making an extremely artistic design.

The new office created last night at the annual meeting of the congregation was that of registrar of the church. Rev. Mr. Maurer was elected to that office and his duties as registrar will be to look after the church records. The reports presented showed the church to be in a flourishing condition.

John Marline, charged at Waterbury with conspiracy and obtaining money under false pretenses in connection with the filmflammers, Dr. Lorenzo, Arute and Rosa, who were bound over to the superior court last week, was himself bound over to the city court this morning under bonds of $200 for the first charge and $400 for the second.

WESLEY STORE ENTERED

Visitor Who Stole From John H. Murphy Evidently Knew His Ground—Horse From Fort Mansfield Dashes Down the Black Island's Pier—Judgment for Defendant Railway in Dotolo Suit—Act to Authorize Issuance of Bonds by Pawcatuck St. Ry. Co.

There is a burglar or two at large in the town of Westerly, and at least one visited the store of John H. Murphy in Canal street Thursday night, being content with taking the money contained in the cash register and a few cigars from a showcase. When John Murphy closed the store at night, he left about $3 in the register, and when he attempted to make change for a customer Friday morning he discovered that the cash register had been robbed, and at once commenced an investigation.

It was found that entrance was made by removing the lower sash of a four light window frame in the basement. The burglar then proceeded up the stairs leading to the store, where the door at the head of the stairs was locked, the key being in the lock on the store side of the door. The burglar then cut a hole through the light panel of this door near the knob put his hand through the hole and unlocked the door. The cut through the door panel was not large, which denotes that the burglar did not have a large hand, and gives ground for the belief that the crime was committed by some small-handed chap who was familiar with the premises.

After abstracting the money from the cash register the burglar took his horse out of the store without disturbing anything else in the store except the cigar case. The door through which he entered was found unlocked and the window sash that had been removed was placed back against but not in the window frame. Then the burglar passed in through the basement and the stock horse owned by Uncle Samuel, which was harnessed to a single wagon that contained the milk supply for Fort Mansfield, the mate remaining in the government stable. The one horse team was left standing in front of the postoffice at the Hill, while the driver went in for the mail.

The horse took a notion to imitate his mate, who recently ran away and off the dock at the government reservation and was recovered after considerable trouble. So the animal dashed down Bay street, spilling the milk from the cans in the wagon as he ran, and then swerved to the right and ran to the steamer Black Island pier. He went at full speed down the plank of the wagon swaying from rail to rail of the structure, and on to the extreme end of the pier, in true imitation of the act of his mate along the government pier some time ago, when the ocean water was not so cold as at present.

At the pier's end there came a change in the horse's intention, for he suddenly turned on his haunches, buried the sharp calks of his steel shoes into the plank and stopped his progress seaward. And there he stood until the driver came and guided him back safely to the farm. There was no injury to the horse.

jury to horse, or damage to vehicle, but it became necessary to get another supply of milk for the soldier boys in drab at Fort Mansfield.

In the third district court Friday before Judge Oliver H. Williams was heard the case of John H. Murphy vs. the Pawcatuck Valley street railway, to recover damages for injuries to a horse and cart struck by a trolley car in attempting to cross the tracks from Vincent lane to Main street. Clarence E. Roche appeared for plaintiff and Everett E. Kingsley for the trolley company. Judge Williams gave judgment for the defendant to recover costs, and the plaintiff failed to produce a preponderance of evidence. No other cases were brought to trial.

Senator Louis W. Arnold has presented in the state senate a resolution amending an act amending the charter of the Pawcatuck Street Railway company, which operates between the village of Westerly and Watch Hill, giving authority to issue bonds to the amount of $150,000, and to buy, sell, lease or use the Westerly and Connecticut street railway company's property, commonly known as the Norwich and Westerly trolley road. The matter was referred to the committee on corporations.

There is no lawyer in the membership of the senate committee on judiciary in the Rhode Island general assembly, the committee being composed of Senators John P. Sanborn, Walter A. Bowen, Oscar A. Bennett, George T. Gorham and Addison P. Munroe. The committee has elected Senator Sanborn as chairman. Judge John W. Sweeney of the Rhode Island supreme court is clerk of the judiciary committee at a salary of $800. He will probably supply the knowledge of law required in the committee.

NEW LONDON PLANNING FOR FUTURE

Mayor Mahan Looks Forward to a Park System

HARBOR CLUB PLANNING NEW HOME

The New London Naval Station Listed for Abandonment—An Interesting Religious Controversy—Ex-Governor Waller Opposed to Some of Senator Mahan's Policies and will Have the Aid of Senator Donovan.

There always has been and probably always will be a full quota of Doubting Thomases in the city of New London, for it is always surprising these days if something of importance appears in public print before the facts are known to them. It was stated in this correspondence last Saturday, and several hours before the meeting of the incorporators in Hartford, that the Woman's college was to be located in New London, stating that it was practically decided to locate here at the meeting held December 23, the reason being given for delay of the formal announcement, which announcement, Saves Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," writes A. D. McDonald of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats, but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhages, grippe, asthma, hay fever, chronic whooping cough, all bronchial troubles—it's supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Lee & Osgood Co.

Solves a Deep Mystery.
"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. E. Rader of Lewisburg, Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50c at Lee & Osgood Co.

A Reliable Cough Medicine.
Is a valuable family friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Lee & Osgood Co.

one of New London's foremost citizens, a lawyer of acknowledged ability, one of the best known men in the state and is not lacking in influence with legislators. Ex-Gov. Thomas M. Waller has stated publicly that he will give his services voluntarily to aid the town of Waterford against the annexation to the city of New London. So there is little to be concerned about in the oratorical line when the annexation matter is given committee hearing.

This indicates that former Governor Waller proposes to spend some of his time at the state capital during the present session of the legislature and it can be put down for a certainty that he will not devote all of that time to the New London-Waterford annexation matter. Of late it has developed that he does not agree with Mayor Mahan on all his public policies, especially those that tend to the improvement and betterment of the city from the mayor's standpoint of progress, and will therefore be ready to oppose some of the measures that are likely to be proposed by the mayor-senator, and he can rely upon Senator Donovan as a staunch supporter in all he undertakes in that particular line.

It is no secret that Senator Mahan is strongly in favor of improved sidewalks in New London, and the establishment of a park system that will tend to make the city more in keeping with the larger cities in the state, which the mayor expects it will be some time. The mayor-senator is a business man of experience, and realizes that public improvements cannot be carried on without expense and that the future as well as the present should help pay the freight.

Now suppose for instance, there is ground for the supposition that Senator Mahan should present a resolution authorizing the city of New London to issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 for the sidewalks in the city of New London, and another $100,000 for use in park system, there would be no doubt of the stand that would be taken by the ex-governor. He would find time to drop the annexation business and enter his strongest protest against the passage of the resolution, with a determination to kill it at the outset, rather than give the citizens of New London opportunity to approve or disapprove in city meeting as the rider would undoubtedly be attached to the resolution if presented by Senator Mahan. Such action on the part of the governor would not be disappointing to the mayor-senator, and he would probably be prepared for the attack. There is indication, however, that in committee rooms and lobby of the state capital on matters of special interest to the staid and the progressive citizens of New London before the session closes without even taking the New London-Groton ferry fight into consideration.

Work is progressing rapidly upon the buildings for the New London Ship and Engine company on the site of the Eastern Shipbuilding plant and it is expected that in the early spring the ships will all be in operation and hundreds of skilled mechanics employed. Furthermore, substantial brick buildings are being erected, which are indicative of the stability and the life of the concerns interested and which have long since passed the experimental stage. While the shipbuilding plant was in operation it was of great benefit to New London and to Groton, but when it passed away it caused a real estate depression and within a year it is expected that at least twenty-five new tenement houses will be erected convenient to the new plant.

Not to be outdone by the Thames and the John Winthrop clubs, the Harbor club of the Fifth ward is planning the erection of a home clubhouse of its own. The members have been giving the matter of erecting a clubhouse quiet but effective consideration and the members have pledged $5,000 for a building fund, which will be materially increased in the near future. A building committee has been organized and several plans are being viewed and the probability is that the clubhouse will be located in Montauk avenue, not far from the present leased site of the Harbor club. The club is more than the other two named and its membership almost wholly made up of residents of the Fifth ward and every member is intensely interested in the new home idea.

It is planned to have the house large enough for all future club uses and for equipment for pleasure and convenience of members and the promoters plan to have the club conducted along the present lines, with amiable and social character, and in intoxicating drinks on the premises barred.

So the New London naval station is among the five on the Atlantic seaboard that are recommended for abandonment, and should this come to pass all hope of its becoming "the greatest navy yard of the future" will have passed away forever and ever. Perhaps the late John R. Bolles, more than any other individual, was responsible for the selection of the location on the east bank of the Thames river, and should the property be abandoned for naval purposes, the original owners of the property, or their heirs or assigns, would be entitled to have the naval station on the Thames located and at considerable personal expense, but probably not wholly without a private motive that was never realized.

Mr. Bolles worked in and out of season in favor of a naval station on the Thames for over twenty years and succeeded in getting the endorsements of the foremost officers of the navy department as well as the engineers' department of the army, and many times thought he had the matter well in hand when it would slip from his grasp. But he was persistent and finally the navy department was transferred to the government. But Mr. Bolles was a wise man and so fixed the transfer that whenever the property was abandoned for the purpose for which it was given it would come back to the Bolles family. Under those conditions it is not likely that the navy department will liberally part with the valuable property and until positive action on abandonment is taken it will be difficult to get the Bolles family to take any serious stock in the abandonment scheme.

Pastor Ives of the Unitarian church gave his last Sunday's sermon on publication, so that it could reach a much larger congregation than could be gathered in his little church. The sermon, or so much thereof as was printed, gave some short jabs and bitter cuts to the Catholic church methods, from his standpoint, that did not meet the approval of Pastor Crowley of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church. The reply, as given in the Bulletin, was a two-column communication that evidently hit the mark, as the other pastor did not come to the reply, as he was very busy called upon the Rev. Mr. Ives to furnish proof of his statements as uttered from this pulpit and in the daily press, Pastor Crowley has evidently just a little bit of sporting blood in his veins, for he offered to give the other cleric a hundred dollars for the corroboration by proof of nearly every direct statement that was made against the Catholic church or its spiritual head.

Pastor Crowley's response appeared the very day following the publication of Rev. Mr. Ives' sermon and invited a response, but up to this writing Pastor Ives has not made reply. So what promised to be a lively and perhaps interesting controversy did not materialize. Since Rev. Mr. Ives has been in New London he has more to say through the newspapers of the city than any other pastor, and it was expected that he would gladly accept the invitation of the new pastor of St. Mary's. Perhaps it is just as well the response did not come, as there is never much to be gained for the cause of religion by bitter newspaper controversies.

STUBBORN ECZEMA ON HANDS

"Some nine years ago I noticed small pimples breaking out on the back of my hands. They became very irritating and gradually became worse, so that I could not sleep at night. I consulted a physician who treated me a long time, but it got worse and I could not put my hands in water. I was treated at the hospital, and it was just bad case of eczema. Well, I just kept on using everything that I could for nearly eight years until I was advised to try Cuticura Ointment. I did so, and I found after a few applications and by bandaging my hands with up to the burning sensations were disappearing. I could sleep well, and did not have any itching during the night. I began after a while to use Cuticura Soap for a wash for them, and I think by using the Soap and Ointment I was much benefited. I stuck to the Cuticura treatment, and thought if I could see other benefits for over seven years with no result, it deserved a fair trial with a severe and stubborn case. I used the Ointment and Soap for nearly six months, and I am glad to say that I have hands as clear as anyone. It is my wish that you publish this letter to all the world, and if anyone is troubled in the same way, let them try Cuticura. I will give them the name of my physician, also the hospital I was treated at." (Signed) Miss Mary A. Bentley, 93 University St., Montreal, Can., Sept. 14, 1910.
